

Evergreen Water Butt

Evergreen Water Butt

Closer to nature

The idea and design for this unique water butt is from an old German oak tree trunk. A highly realistic finish was obtained through a special weather proofing treatment of the PE material; it is so realistic it is hard to separate from a real oak tree.

With a huge volume of 475 litres (104 gallons) you have an excellent rainwater supply for small and medium sized gardens. The 3P water butt "Evergreen" comes with a $\frac{3}{4}$ " brass threaded connection point for a screw in tap and a side outlet for draining or connecting to another rain tank. Supplied with brass tap.
